IFPG Dropped Phoenix Franchise Brands Amidst Franchisee Horror Stories. The Perfect Franchise Keeps Promoting.

Mark Schnurman claims The Perfect Franchise is dedicated to "enhancing the lives of our clients by helping them achieve greater fulfillment and success."

By "Clients" he must mean Rhino7 & Phoenix Franchise Group whose franchises they keep promoting even after other broker groups have dropped them.

Perhaps their $35,000 bounty drown out the dozens of franchisee horror stories that include bankruptcies, foreclosures, broken marriages, and combat Veterans with PTSD battling suicidal thoughts?

Guess Who's Still Promoting Phoenix Franchise Brands? \(UPDATED\)

Kudos to the IFPG for dropping Phoenix Franchise Brands and deleting the pages that promoted them!

Perhaps The Perfect Franchise will do the same, if only to look responsible to the NASAA Committee on Broker Business Practices.

Open Invitation: to provide corrections, clarifications, explanations, rebuttals or constructive actions being taken by individuals and companies discussed on our site to provide corrections, clarifications, rebuttals and their points-of-view.

It's our goal to provide both sides of the issue - not just our own perspective - and let readers decide for themselves. We hope that you'll join us in open and honest discussion of the viability of Spray Foam Genie, Fetch! Pet Care & other Phoenix Franchise Brands franchise offerings.

We would love to hear from franchise brokers who conduct business responsibly, honestly and ethically. We know there are some out there!
